Mobility regulations semester 2 2021-2022

Within Europe (including Switzerland, Norway, Liechtenstein, Iceland and the UK)

- Physical mobility for incoming and outgoing students for courses (exchange), internships and (graduation) research projects is allowed under strict conditions. You can start/proceed with your application in our Mobility Online tool.

Outside Europe

- Physical mobility for incoming and outgoing students to and from countries outside Europe for courses (exchange) is not allowed.
- Physical mobility for incoming and outgoing students to and from countries outside Europe for internships or (graduation) research projects can be allowed in case the country of destination or residence is listed as safe at the EU’s list of Epidemiologically Safe Countries at a certain reference date.

Conditions

Within Europe

- Only travelling to code green and yellow areas is allowed.
- Travelling to code orange and red areas is not allowed.
- For code orange countries within Europe (and above mentioned EEA countries and the UK) an exception can be considered if this orange color code is related to only a mandatory negative PCR test before arrival at the foreseen destination and/or an obligation to go into quarantine after arrival or after return to The Netherlands.
- If the situation changes for the worst after the decision date, you are not allowed to travel abroad for courses, internships or graduation projects.
- The most accurate information about the COVID-19 situation and applicable color code in European countries can be found on the website of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Outside Europe

- Only travelling to code green and yellow areas is allowed.
- Travelling to code orange and red areas is not allowed.
- For code orange countries outside Europe an exception can be considered if this orange color code is related to only a mandatory negative PCR test before arrival at the foreseen destination and/or an obligation to go into quarantine after arrival or after return to The Netherlands.
- The final decision on travelling abroad will be made 10 weeks before the start of the quartile in which your internship or graduation project will start: 29 November 2021 for a start in Q3, 21 February 2022 for a start in Q4.
- If the situation changes for the worst after the final decision date, you are not allowed to travel abroad for an internship or graduation project.
- If the situation changes for the better after the final decision date, the initial decision will not change into a positive advice to go abroad.
- The most accurate information about the COVID-19 situation and applicable color code in countries outside Europe can be found on the website of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

- Please note that you are responsible to keep track about the actual situation and measurements that are in place in the country of your destination. Please inform your exchange coordinator about this.
